

BPU Forum:

Assessing Parental Capacity and Working with Parents

Dates: Thursday 5th April
Friday 6th April
(Enrolments close 2nd April)

Time: 9:00am-4:30pm

Venue: Office of the Advocate for Children and Young People
219-241 Cleveland St
Strawberry Hills, Sydney
(Short walk from Central – Devonshire St Exit)

For: Managers and Team Leaders

Cost: $70 per person
(includes lunch both days and video resource)

This forum will explore different views on best practice when working with families and the issues involved in the assessment of parental capacity.

Explore parent's experience of being assessed and having children restored, available frameworks and tools in assessing parenting capacity, the role of culture in assessment, family group conferencing and the use of evidence based programs.

In addition to hearing from key stakeholders, practitioners and researchers we would like to hear from you. To facilitate this you are invited to use a 'speed presentation format' for a maximum of 5 minutes. You might share a resource, or one aspect of how you have embedded restoration/preservation practice in your team, or pose a question that you think needs attention. Please let terry@acwa.asn.au know if you are interested in presenting for this segment.
