Focus Group Invitation — Do you work in the Permanency Support Program in NSW?

If so, we invite you to an online focus group about the new Permanency Practice Framework, funded by DCJ and designed for non-government practitioners working towards case plan goals of restoration or guardianship for Aboriginal children in care and case plan goals of restoration, guardianship or open adoption for non-Indigenous children in care.

We will begin by giving you an overview of the Permanency Practice Framework and then invite you to share your perceptions of the potential to use the Permanency Practice Framework in your work.

The research will contribute to an evaluation of a pilot implementation of the Permanency Practice Framework and help us understand how it could be scaled up across the out-of-home care sector. The evaluation is led by Professor Amy Conley Wright at the Research Centre for Children and Families, University of Sydney. If you have any questions, please email: rccf.research@sydney.edu.au

Anything you tell us in the focus group will be kept confidential. Focus group discussions will be recorded and only the research team will have access to this information. We will use the information to identify key themes.

If you are an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander PSP professional, including those who work for an Aboriginal Community Controlled Organisation, please register at this link:
